Daphne Alderson

Hailed as "an artist of dignified passion," Daphne has brought her show to audiences of all ages. Debuting at the acclaimed Eugene O'Neill Theatre Center, she's sung at venues ranging from elegant New York cabarets to concert halls, churches and museums in communities throughout the region. A warm, radiant performer with a broad repertoire ranging from Irving Berlin to the French chansons of Edith Piaf, Daphne paints a rich palette infused with life adventures in a show that is intimate, funny and often bittersweet.

The Pennsylvania Commission for Women would like to thank the Pennsylvania National Guard and the Department of Military and Veterans Affairs for their help and expertise in putting together this important event.

The Pennsylvania Commission for Women would also like to thank the Pennsylvania Veterans Museum for the use of their artwork and video.
